Loudoun County Public Schools

We're excited to partner with the Loudoun Community Band. In cooperation with The Rogues, we presented a free educational outreach event to nearly 1,000 students on Friday morning June 2.

These world class musicians interacted with our students, inspiring and motivating them to continue the hard work and commitment to excellence it takes to be great musicians.

As a National Association of Music Merchants Best Community for Music Education, we recognize and value the mutual benefit of working and collaborating with community arts organizations. Creating opportunities like this sustains and builds music programs of the highest quality. We thank the Loudoun Community Band for enriching the lives of our students.

The Band

Founded in Houston in 1994, The Rogues created a new genre of Celtic music with exceptionally well-played pipes and driving percussion. From street festivals to Scottish Highland games to performing with a symphony orchestra, The Rogues deliver a commanding performance.

Following the Texas Renaissance Festival in 1994, the band soon began performing out of state, adding the Scottish Highland Games, Celtic festivals and corporate shows to its venues. The band has produced its own theater show called Celtic Crossroads, performed as a guest artist with the Air Force Symphony Orchestra in Washington, DC, and had its music featured in the 2011 film "Kill the Irishman". The Rogues have performed in Las Vegas, Scotland, Greece, Guantanamo Bay Naval Base, Canada, on several cruises and throughout the United States.

Members of the band have competed throughout North America and won first place at the World Pipe Band Championships in Glasgow, Scotland. The Rogues have produced 10 CDs and two DVDs to date; and they're listed in the official Grammy book for several nominations.

The Rogues have a proud tradition of supporting charities, sometimes holding their own fundraisers to support individuals and causes for soldiers.

Randy Wothke - Founder of The Rogues

Randy's course in life was set when at age six he began violin lessons. Having mastered that attempt by performing Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star in front of his entire Cub Scout pack, he soon got bored and moved on to the piano. That lasted several years, but finally the instrument that won out was the drums.

Begging his parents for one more chance at age 10, he began percussion in the public schools in Houston, TX and never looked back. Competing successfully in high school and graduating with a degree in music education and percussion from the University of Houston in 1985, he taught band in the public schools in Texas for two years and completed some graduate work in conducting.

Beginning in college Randy picked up Scottish drumming as a hobby, joined a pipe band and became a member of the renowned Hamilton Pipe Band founded by Lars Sloan. In 1993 they competed at the World Pipe Band Championships in Glasgow, Scotland and won "Best Overseas Band" in the Grade II competition - a first for a U.S. band. They subsequently won first place in the Grade III competition in 1998 - also a first for the U.S.

In 1994 Randy founded "The Scottish Rogues", later to become "The Rogues"- the only person to be a part of every Rogues lineup since the beginning. He has led the band through ten CDs and two DVDs, and has received two ASCAP-Plus awards for his music from the American Society of Composers, Arrangers & Publishers.

Dr. GILBERT CORELLA MUSIC DIRECTOR

Dr. Corella began his musical career with the United States Air Force Band in 1985. He participated in ceremonies ranging from State arrivals at the White House to full honors funerals at Arlington National Cemetery and represented the Air Force as a soloist and clinician at conferences worldwide.

He later moved into administration to become the director of the Air Force Band's Chamber Series program and eventually joined the public affairs team. He built partnerships with civilian and other military organizations to promote the Air Force's public image. He managed radio and television productions as well as represented the Air Force at international music education conferences. After serving 25 years, he retired as the Director of Special Events.

As a civilian, Dr. Corella developed an instrumental ensemble program at Charles County Community College (today College of Southern Maryland). He also recorded on several compact discs, including The Bear (Unnatural Ax); Side by Side, A Klezmer Service, National Taptoe, and Tower Music. In 2003, he founded the Serapis Foundation, whose mission is to educate and stimulate awareness on the diversity of musical expression with a focus on diverse and economically challenged children.

His degrees include a Bachelor of Arts from the Catholic University of America; a Masters of Arts in conducting and performance from George Mason University; and a Doctorate of Musical Arts from the Catholic University of America - as the first-ever graduate in tuba performance. He has been teaching tuba and euphonium at George Washington University and directing the Loudoun Symphonic Winds since 1999.
