DR. GILBERT CORELLA, MUSIC DIRECTOR

Retiring from the United States Air Force Band after 25 years of service, Dr. Corella continues to perform as a soloist and clinician at colleges and universities throughout the United States. He is currently the tuba/euphonium professor at George Washington University, and is the founder and Executive Director for the Serapis Foundation, whose mission is to promote music educations and appreciation. He earned his Doctorate of Musical Arts degree in May of 2005, as the school's first-ever graduate in tuba performance. Retired Colonel Arnald D. Gabriel and Professor Anthony Maiello are amongst his most influential teachers, as well as Baltimore Symphony principal tubist David Fedderly and the former National Symphony principal trombonist Milt Stevens.

MAX NOLIN, DIRECTOR OF LOUDOUN CHORALE

Max is the vocal music instructor at the Edmund Burke School in Washington, DC where he teaches a variety of vocal ensembles and music classes to students in grades 6-12. Max is also an active stage performer, taking on such roles as Peter Quint in Britten's Turn of The Screw and Don Ottavio in Mozart's Don Giovanni. For two summers Max was a Young Artist with the Ohio Light Opera performing in a total of 12 productions of light opera and musical theatre. His degrees include an undergraduate degree from Baldwin Wallace University (Cleveland, Ohio) and a Master of Music degree in choral conducting from Westminster Choir College in Princeton, New Jersey. His teachers include Dr. Dirk Garner and Dr. Joe Miller.
